Lean into Leadership with Athena Program Committees

Your Athena member experience comes with a variety of platforms to significantly build your leadership skills, strategically broaden your network and cultivate your personal brand. Athena's portfolio of 50 annual leadership programs is driven by its committees, comprised entirely of Athena members. Athena members who join these committees lean into leadership by helping with program management, content creation, access to key opinion leaders, domain expertise, and social media campaigns with the goal of educating our STEM community to achieve accelerated professional success.

COMMITTEE SPOTLIGHT | LSI LIFE SCIENCE SPECIAL INTEREST GROUP

Currently co-chaired by Cathy Schnabel and Jill Roughan, the Life Science Special Interest Group Committee produces programs that equip women with sector specific insights and methodologies to advance careers, accelerate business opportunities and grow your organizational leadership. These influential programs offer invaluable pearls of wisdom from experts at the forefront of career advancement in the life sciences sector. Join us on March 19, as LSI kicks off its 2020 program offerings with Taking Charge of your Personal Health Through Science, Technology and Knowledge.

If you're ready to Lean into Leadership and join Athena's Life Science Special Interest Group Committee, email staff@athenasd.org.
